Safe Housing in McDowell County

AIM GRANT SPURS HOME REPAIR PROGRAM PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN GATEWAY WELLNESS FOUNDATION AND WNC BRIDGE FOUNDATION

A unique urgent home repair collaborative between Gateway Wellness Foundation and WNC Bridge Foundation is underway in McDowell County. With over 3,000 homeowners in the county reporting cost-burdened housing problems such as a leaky roof or disability inaccessibility, both foundations recognize the importance of combining resources and knowledge to address this overwhelming need.

“Providing resources for safe housing is a strategic priority for our AIM Grant funding this year,” said Scott Buchanan, President & CEO at WNC Bridge Foundation. “We are honored to partner with Gateway and their efforts to improve the safety and livability for at-risk homes in McDowell County.”

Neil Gurney, Executive Director, for Gateway Wellness Foundation notes, “The demand for this type of service is undeniable, and we look forward to working with volunteers and utilizing our existing relationships to make urgent home repairs for our most vulnerable residents.”

The pilot project will assist low-income households living with special circumstances including, senior citizens, disabled individuals, Veterans, single-parent and/or large households, and families with children who have elevated blood lead levels.

A grant of $75,000 from the NC Housing Finance Agency has been matched by an AIM Grant from WNC Bridge Foundation, along with additional funding from Gateway for a total of $200,000 to repair or improve housing conditions that pose an imminent threat to the safety of household members. Gateway Foundation will supervise the urgent home repair work and will provide final inspections for all houses in the program.

It is expected that between 30 to 40 houses will receive home repairs as part of this collaborative effort. Both foundations hope to continue to leverage additional funds to meet the overwhelming need after the pilot year.

“Thank you again for the wonderful training you provided for the YW staff and teachers. Please know that your time was truly valued and we are so grateful to learn of ways we can support children in their phonemic awareness in an effort to build literacy skills.”

DR. AMIERIS LAVENDER, CHIEF PROGRAM OFFICER, YWCA

LIKE MANY organizations in 2020, Read to Succeed Asheville-Buncombe (R2S) quickly pivoted its services when the pandemic struck. The transition from in-person tutoring with K-3rd graders to virtual tutoring was challenging; learning new technology, developing online versions of training(s), and supporting tutors while working remotely required more resources and expertise than ever before.

A WNC Bridge IMPACT Grant awarded to R2S at the end of 2020 supported the ongoing transition to virtual tutoring, equipping R2S with new software that allowed them to collect permission forms from families online, communicate with schools and families via text, utilize video communications platforms for tutoring sessions, and create high-quality training videos that volunteer tutors could view at home. In addition, the IMPACT Grant funded a valuable position for a communications, marketing, and technology specialist to spearhead many of these efforts.

The IMPACT Grant also supported the development of new workshops and continuing education lessons that were offered to R2S volunteers and tutors as well as the wider WNC community. In 2021, community partners and education groups participated in multiple online trainings developed and delivered virtually by R2S for the first time, including Buncombe County Libraries (Youth Services), Dogwood Health Trust, Community Action Opportunities, Buncombe Partnership for Children, Literacy Together, and more!

As this community-wide engagement exploded, so did the request for R2S to offer literacy training to the staff members, volunteers, and educators of community partners working with children in Asheville and Buncombe County.
Since in-person opportunities opened up in June 2021, R2S has trained over 100 teens and adults from the YWCA, Christine Avery Learning Center, Children First (Communities in Schools), and Arthur R. Edington Center in phonological awareness, phonics, and how best to support the young readers their programs serve.

“We cannot overstate the ripple effect this work has on the wider community. As more and more people learn the foundational skills they can use with children to support their reading journeys before, during, and after school, the more we will see the needle move when it comes to literacy achievement and closing the opportunity gap,” notes Jaimee Stanley, Co-Executive Director of Read to Succeed.
Help After the Storm

The remnants of Tropical Storm Fred and its devastating floodwaters affected hundreds in Buncombe, Haywood, and Transylvania counties. WNC Bridge Foundation provided $55,000 in flood relief efforts to support frontline non-profits in meeting the immediate needs of those impacted by the floods.

Using funds from our WNC Greatest Needs program, we are honored to support the work of Mountain Projects, The Community Foundation of Western North Carolina, and United Way of Haywood County.

Office Perks

NON-PROFITS SHOP FOR FURNITURE

One of the perks of WNC Bridge Foundation moving to our new office space located at 294 Overlook Road, Asheville, was the opportunity to let non-profits shop for office furniture that would not be going to our new building.

Eight non-profits participated, taking more than 90 pieces of office furniture, including desks, conference tables, lateral filing cabinets, and office chairs. Organizations could take as much as they wanted and only had to pay a $5 participation fee.

PARTICIPATING ORGANIZATIONS

- Amazing Grace Ministries, Hendersonville
- Centro Unido Latino-Americano, Marion
- Clothes to Kids of Haywood County, Clyde
- Community Kitchen, Canton
- Jewish Family Services of WNC, Asheville
- Meals on Wheels of Asheville and Buncombe County, Asheville
- New Hope of McDowell, Marion
- Working Wheels, Asheville

Centro Unido Latino-Americano (pictured at left) in McDowell County was able to secure four new desks for staff and a conference table.

“The furniture selection was more than what we were expecting, we didn’t have a conference table, and now we have one that is perfect for our office,” shared Margarita Ramirez, Centro Unido’s Executive Director. “We are very grateful for this opportunity from WNC Bridge to help make our office more comfortable.”
Paddling Strong

DRUMS & DRAGONS CELEBRATES 5TH ANNIVERSARY

It was a perfect day for WNC Bridge Foundation’s 5th annual Drums & Dragons boat race fundraiser held at Lake Julian Park on Saturday, August 28, 2021.

On the day of the event, over 40 enthusiastic volunteers—including retirees, high school students, area non-profit staff members, and board members—all came out to support Drums & Dragons. Dressed in bright yellow shirts, our amazing volunteers registered racers, sold raffle tickets, ran WNC Bridge’s pop-up thrift store, and more. Standout volunteer Pete Hutchins initially signed up as a paddler with Big Brothers Big Sisters of WNC. However, when Pete saw more volunteers were needed in the early morning hours of the event, he did not hesitate to help. His can-do attitude earned Pete the Best Individual Spirit award.

The Greatest Team Spirit award went to Irene Wortham Center, who exemplified the idea by holding regular practice drills, offering assistance to other teams in need, and overall maintaining a lively, competitive yet gracious attitude throughout race day.

RACE DAY WINNERS

Each of the eight teams participating in the day’s event raced in three total heats—the first two to determine their best time and then the final heat for top prizes and bragging rights. It was a friendly yet competitive race for all. Two attending Club Teams from Charlotte, Anger Management and Charlotte Fury, took 1st and 2nd place, respectively. Big Brothers Big Sisters of WNC—a team new to the Drums & Dragons lineup—took home the bronze medal for third place.

Overall, the event was a tremendous success. Participating teams, donors, and sponsors helped WNC Bridge Foundation raise $21,590 for the three benefiting non-profits: St. Gerard House, Irene Wortham Center, and to MountainCare’s Adult Day and The Wheelchair Seating Clinic. Funds raised during this year’s event will allow these non-profits to continue their great work in the community.
WNC Bridge Volunteer Spotlight

KAREN WILKINSON VALUES GIVING BACK TO THE COMMUNITY, CHERISHES EXTENDED FAMILY OF FELLOW VOLUNTEERS AND STAFF

In addition to over ten years of volunteering endless hours setting up estate sales and assisting customers, Karen is also an avid WNC Bridge Foundation thrift store and estate sale customer and volunteer recruiter. We asked Karen some questions.

WHERE ARE YOU FROM?
I grew up in a small town in Michigan and went to college on a four-year Ford Motor Foundation Scholarship. Following that, I was among the first female MBA graduates from the University of Michigan. But, unfortunately, Ford didn’t hire female MBAs, so I didn’t work for them!

TELL US ABOUT THE 18 YEARS YOU LIVED IN HAWAII.
We moved to Hawaii in 1990 when my husband retired from the Navy and wanted to start a new career. He loved Hawaii, so we decided to make a big leap. Living in Kailua, we commuted to Honolulu, where I worked as an administrator at Kamehameha Schools, founded by the last Royal Princess of Hawaii for native Hawaiians.

HOW DID YOU END UP IN ASHEVILLE?
We retired here in 2008 because it was a diverse community with art, culture, nature, the mountains, good medical facilities, and because North Carolina is the midpoint between grandkids in Maryland and Florida.

WHAT ARE YOUR HOBBIES?
Primarily quilting. I make things for friends and family and to donate—currently, I make patriotic quilts for veterans in hospice. And I love playing with the world’s best dog, my Trixie.

WHAT’S THE BEST PART OF VOLUNTEERING AT WNC BRIDGE?
So many best parts! I get to do something productive that helps others—I’ve had lots of help from others through the years, and now I can give back by volunteering. Plus, every two weeks it’s like Christmas when you see all the new treasures! And, I’ve found a wonderful extended family with fellow volunteers and staff. They help and support me.

Supporting Blue Ridge Pride

CASTOFF THRIFT STORE ITEMS RE-PURPOSED FOR ART INSTALLATION

This summer, WNC Bridge Foundation Thrift Stores and Estates Sales helped facilitate the Blue Ridge Pride installation, Cup of Me, in Pack Square Park. Working with festival director Tony Bayles, WNC Bridge staff and volunteers saved unsellable clothing and miss-matched cups needed for the installation. Though this year’s pride event was canceled, the temporary installation, woven within a giant fir tree, was still able to represent the spirit and creativity of the LGBTQ community.

FROM BLUE RIDGE PRIDE: As you approach the tree, you notice the colors and strips of clothing moving in the breeze. At times, bits of fabric intertwine. This is where our stories and lives intersect—a tapestry of different experiences ebbs and flows before you. Cups dangle from strips of clothing, just waiting to spill their knowledge and wisdom, to become part of the tale that continues. We must be brave enough to share our stories, and wise enough to savor the “me” of others.
Refugee Shopping Days

AFTER-HOURS SHOPPING OPPORTUNITIES FOR DISPLACED AFGHANS

In October, Asheville welcomed 40 new residents—refugees recently evacuated from war-torn Afghanistan. With little more than the clothes on their backs, evacuees arrived in the U.S. and were processed on Air Force bases then assigned to organizations able to relocate them. In North Carolina, the Catholic Charities Diocese of Charlotte (CCDOC) will be resettling 200 refugees in Charlotte and 40 in Asheville.

A WNC Bridge Thrift Store volunteer reached out to Catholic Charities to offer any merchandise the refugees may need. A unique arrangement was set up—instead of donating boxes of random items, WNC Bridge thrift stores offered to facilitate in-store opportunities for anyone to shop for themselves. As a result, the evacuees would choose the things they want or need, rather than having things handed to them. Thrift Store Coordinator Lyndia Stauffer worked with CCDOC Impact Coordinator Maggie Rhinehart to set up in-person Shopping Days on various Sundays when the store is closed.

Regardless of the marked price, items in the store were sold at a nominal 50¢, covered by the charity’s funding. Initially, priority needs have been clothing, shoes, and personal items such as backpacks and notebooks.

“The evacuees were all very grateful. We could feel their sense of being overwhelmed,” said WNC Bridge Thrift Store’s Lyndia Stauffer. “Just our building can be a lot to take in!” She explained, “The group stayed together in the clothing area at first until they understood they could explore the entire store. It was a moving experience for us to welcome and provide for them.”

As the refugees begin settling into long-term housing, Shopping Days will provide household goods, furniture, and kitchen needs.

There is an urgent need for affordable rental homes and apartments in the Asheville area, ranging in size from one to three bedrooms. Catholic Charities provides flexible terms and reliable lease payments. If you can help, call 800-227-7261 or email info@ccdoc.org.
